

Dear All,

I recently had a meeting with Chris Dobson, the new Diocesan Ecumenical Officer, regarding the link between Bristol Diocese and the Bavarian Lutheran Church. We thought it would be a great idea to get together in a group of people who are interested in further developing this link to discuss future plans and possibilities. It would be great to a few people from the East Bristol Partnership at this meeting. The seven churches were directly involved with the link for the last few years. We suggest meeting on Monday, 23rd February at 6pm at the Archdeacon's office, 10 Great Bockeridge, BS9

3TY, Westbury on Trym

Please let me know if you would like to represent the partnership at this meeting. It does not matter if lay people or clergy are coming.

If I have many people showing interest we might have to make a decision who will go as the Archdeacons office is not suitable for very big groups. But don't hesitate to get back to me if you are interested. I shall be away for the first two weeks of February. It would therefore be good if you could get in touch before that. Please do also pass this request on to anyone else who might be interested.

Best wishes

André
